DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-5 and 12-46 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper dated February 2, 2004.
2. Applicant's election with traverse of the election requirement in Paper dated February 2, 2004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that claims 6, 26, and 43 are related to a single invention. This is not found persuasive because separate and distinct searches are required for each of claims 6, 26, and 43.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The language of claim 10, i.e., "said means being reversing means for using alternative configurations of columns of keys selected by reversing all or part of said keyboard," is confusing. As a result, it is not clear what structure is being claimed. In fact, the language of claim 10 is so confusing that prior art was not applied to this claim.

Art Unit: 2854

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 6-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shelton (US 3,970,185). With respect to claims 6 and 11, as illustrated in Figure 1 teaches a multi-mode electronic keyboard suitable for two-handed touch typing and having an alphanumeric section that is not more than five rows of keys. As illustrated, the alphanumeric section includes at least one shift key (UC, IC) and a plurality of keys for typing graphic characters. As illustrated in Figures 1 and 2, the keyboard includes two 'A' keys, therefore as broadly recited, Shelton teaches alternative option means to be used according to operator preference allowing at least two alternative options for conveniently touch-typing the identical characters.

With respect to claim 7, the shift keys (US and IC) could be used to type certain characters on their own keys, and a second means for typing the certain characters by shift-selecting them on other keys. In other words, the typing of either uppercase or lowercase 'A' using the different 'A' keys and the shift key, meets this limitation.

Art Unit: 2854

With respect to claims 8 and 9, Figure 11 of Shelton teaches alternative option means being at least one shift key (UC, IC) conveniently positioned for operation by either thumb or an index finger, the at least one shift key positioned relative to some of the graphic character keys so as to allow at least some shift-selected characters to be conveniently typed either by using one digit on each hand, or using two digits on one hand.
